

Cemetery Concierge Services: Bayer Cemetery Brokers

Making funeral arrangements, buying or selling cemetery property — pre-planning or rearranging plans made long ago that do not apply now — is a daunting experience for many people who are taking on the task often for the first time ever.

It is difficult to feel comfortable in this situation because most people have no prior experience, as a rule.

How does one tackle such a task? By dealing with Bayer Cemetery Brokers, a licensed and bonded company that deals with cemeteries and funeral homes all over and that knows which places will treat their customers well.

Talking to some who uses layman's terms and explains things clearly is important because you cannot make informed decisions if you don't have all the facts.

Rather than facing the large conglomerates that often just compound the confusion and want you to purchase property with them, Bayer Cemetery Brokers is totally impartial. "We will help you buy or sell property in any cemetery," owner Loren Bayer said. "We will help you make informed decisions, guiding you from the start. Whether a family member has died suddenly or you are dealing with a member whose death is pending. "We are the concierge of brokers because we provide information on the grave space plus additional options that are paid for separately," Bayer said. "You will have a full spectrum of what to expect."

By using Bayer's services, you can save between 20 percent and 60 percent on cemetery lots. Bayer Cemetery Brokers will list and sell properties that, in some cases, were purchased years ago but that are not needed today. Whether you have a property for sale or are looking for one for yourself or a family member, Bayer can help you with all aspects.

"We sell at big discounts because we can pass on savings from property purchased many years ago when costs were lower." Bayer Cemetery Brokers is licensed and bonded in the state of California and is held accountable. Bayer has been in the cemetery business since 1979 and 18 years as an independent broker.

In this time, Bayer has seen the funeral industry change. With the growth of large conglomerates and law changes, it has provided the opportunity for alternative funeral homes (private owners) that can offer personable service at huge savings.

Bayer Cemetery Brokers networks with those involved at the time of death or pending, funeral homes, casket stores, churches, hospices etc., who care for your loved ones. With our networking together, savings to the families of $5,000 to $6,000 are common.
